"A grimly funny little black book, as perfectly peculiar as a 21st Century mystery story should be."
