Resumo de Dissipation of the Darkness: Or the Kingdom of the Antichrist

This work, based on an ancient Hebrew manuscript, reports the Foundation and the development of a secret society started with the name: "Mysterious Force." In the year 43 after Christ, Herod Agrippa (King of Judea) and eight companions gathered and founded the aforementioned society.

The goal was to pursue and to kill the first Christians; it was just 10 years of the crucifixion of Christ and the number of followers of the "impostor," as they said their pursuers, grew very.

In 1717, with several Lodges in the East and in Europe, its name was changed from "Mysterious Force" to "Masonry." There is also an appendix that ends the work exposing some of the conflicts between Freemasonry and Christian institutions today.

A discord of almost 20 centuries is presented in this impressive book.
