

GRAVE

Tales of Mankind's Post-Apocalyptic, Dystopian and Disastrous Destiny

PREDICTIONS

Greg Bear

Ray Bradbury

Ramsey Campbell

Arthur C. Clarke

Philip K. Dick

W. E. B. Du Bois

Harlan Ellison

Stephen King

Joe R. Lansdale

Carmen Maria Machado

Mark Samuels

Erica Satifka

Brian Stableford

Kurt Vonnegut, Jr.

and more

Edited by Drew Ford • Introduction by Harlan Ellison

Resumo de Grave Predictions: Tales of Mankind's Post-Apocalyptic, Dystopian and Disastrous Destiny

"This is a book of stories intended to describe that hand of mortal destruction in sixteen utterly different, yet all apocalyptically stunning ways!" Harlan Ellison. Sixteen tantalizing tales of post-apocalyptic societies and dystopian worlds by some of the most acclaimed authors of all time include Stephen King's "The End of the Whole Mess," "The Pedestrian" by Ray Bradbury, and Arthur C.

Clarke's "No Morning After." Other contributors include Philip K. Dick, Kurt Vonnegut, W. E. B. Du Bois, and Harlan Ellison, who provides an Introduction."

Acesse aqui a versão completa deste livro