

The book cover features a stylized illustration. At the top, a dark silhouette of a city skyline is set against a dark blue, textured sky. Below the skyline, a long, narrow, perspective-drawn path leads from the foreground towards the city. The path is rendered with a grid of fine lines. In the foreground, a black silhouette of a person stands with their back to the viewer, looking down the path. The overall color palette is dark, with shades of blue, black, and brownish-gold.
