

The illustration depicts a large, green, scaly dragon with a fierce expression, its mouth wide open showing sharp teeth and a pink tongue. A small boy in a red jacket and blue pants stands in front of the dragon, looking up at it with a surprised expression. Another boy with blonde hair is peeking over the top of a black rectangular sign that contains the title. The dragon's body is covered in green scales, and its legs are also scaly with large white claws. The background is plain white.
