

Resumo de Saying Yes to the Boss

What happens in the office stays in the office? Real estate CEO Carson Newport is determined to build a children's hospital to honor the single mother who'd raised him and his brothers.

But when his PR director Georgia Adams finds the perfect place to build, she must convince a lecherous business rival to give up his bid for the land. Carson doesn't exactly like the idea of her getting close to the enemy, especially as his own feelings for her are heating up during those long hours at the office!

But will an explosive family secret prevent him from getting to know Georgia much, much better?"
